Please use a computer with the latest version of Chrome or Firefox browser

The screenshot shows the Hopin event page for "Impact of the Covid-19 Pandemic on the Global Dengue Situation" on March 24, 12:45PM to 2:30PM CEST. The page features a header with the Hopin logo and "Log in" / "Sign up" links. Below the title, there is a date and time, a description, and a list of sponsors including ADVA, gdac, World Mosquito Program, and Takeo. A "Tickets" section is highlighted with a red dashed border, showing an "Attendee" ticket for "Free" and a prominent blue "Join event" button. A callout bubble points to this button with the text: "To register for the event, press the Join event blue button".

To register for the event, press the Join event blue button

The screenshot shows the same Hopin event page, but the "Tickets" section is now replaced by a "You're in!" status with a checkmark icon. Below this, it says "You'll be able to access the event 5 minutes before it starts." and there is an "Add to calendar" button. A callout bubble points to the "You're in!" status with the text: "If you see the text 'You're in' you are already registered and the event has not started yet." Below this, another callout bubble points to the date and time information with the text: "Please come back once the event starts. You can see the start time below the title. Note doors open 15 minutes before the actual webinar starts".

If you see the text "You're in" you are already registered and the event has not started yet.

Please come back once the event starts. You can see the start time below the title
